

Lerni

Lerni is a complete language e-learning system provider. We are the international, dynamically developing company providing advanced e-learning solutions. There are language and specialized courses in our portfolio, including products dedicated both B2B and B2C markets.

Today, our online platform is available in 49 countries (e.g. in the USA, Canada, Australia and Russia) and used by more than 600 000 learners. Our company has also twice won the prestigious award of the European Language Label - the European Label of innovative teaching and learning foreign languages.

In September 2013, we launched our first mobile learning application to learn five foreign languages.

Who are we looking for?

New Business Developer in B2B department.

Daily duties include:

- Preparing a market strategy for particular markets
- Building a data base of potential institutional clients
- Coordinating email campaigns
- Organizing international events

What do we require?

- Punctuality and orderly manner
- Full availability 8-16 working days
- C1 and higher English language, especially in writing
- Any Sales and Marketing experience will be additional value for Position

What do we offer?

- Unique chance to be a part of international growing company.
- Product and sales trainings
- Great company environment with young people
- Fresh coffee every morning, Relax room, Table soccer, Library

Recruitment process:

CV please send to: pawel.czerwony@fun-media.com